Top Microsoft Partner expands Microsoft Teams engineering services

Finchloom to add Unified Communications Practice

After overwhelming client demand, Finchloom is excited to announce the launch of their new Unified Communications (UC) professional services practice built on Microsoft Teams! Expanding Finchloom's Modern Work Practice, Louis Burger and his UC Team — with more than 25 years of combined experience in the Microsoft Unified Communications and Telephony Industry — will increase their clients ROI by simplifying the hybrid experience and maximizing the productivity benefits of a singular Microsoft Teams experience using Teams Phone, Hybrid Teams Room, and Meetings.

Microsoft Teams is the hub for teamwork that brings together chat, meetings, calling, Office 365 apps, and third-party tools, all in one place. Built with enterprise-grade security and compliance capabilities, Microsoft Teams meets the critical requirements for today's business needs and leverages tomorrow's AI to create new methods of productivity. You can make the most of Teams with Teams Phone and Teams Rooms.

With the unveiling of Microsoft's latest innovations coming to Microsoft Teams, Finchloom Subject Matter Experts (SME) can support their clients and guide them through the journey of migrating from any existing telephony platform to Microsoft Teams Phone. Whether that is a Calling Plan or Direct Routing, Finchloom has experience integrating into multiple ISP vendors, Session Border Controllers, Contact Centers, or any other legacy telephony solution. "Our SME's focus will always place our clients' requirements at the heart of the design and implementation, ensuring the best technical design and delivery for each unique environment" - Louis Burger, UC Practice Manager.

For almost 10 years mid-market to enterprise clients have partnered with Finchloom to adopt advanced workloads in Azure, migrate complex environments in Modern Work, secure their cloud infrastructure, and augment their IT team with the best Microsoft engineering.

Finchloom is a 100% Microsoft focused Gold Partner and direct Cloud Solutions Provider (CSP) who provides professional services, managed services, and recruiting services to mid-market and enterprise customers across the United States. Finchloom's deep expertise in Azure, Teams, SharePoint, and Security enables them to offer a variety of services including project design, implementation, management, augmentation, license and security audits, and more to empower companies to innovate through collaboration with the best in Microsoft engineering.
